

WOMEN & GENDER STUDIES (WGST)

The topics discussed in these courses will vary from year to year.

NOTE: Lists of core and elective courses in Women and Gender Studies offered at Mount Saint Vincent are available in the Academic Calendars of that institution, the Saint Mary's WMST Coordinator, or the institutional websites of MSVU and SMU.

WGST 6601 Feminist Theory

3 credit hours

This course is an in-depth study of feminist theory emphasizing theoretical development over time and common assumptions and debates among feminist scholars.

WGST 6602 Feminist Methodologies

3 credit hours

This course is an examination of feminist critiques and strategies around knowledge and research methodologies. Students explore historical and contemporary debates on important research issues.

WGST 6603 Graduate Seminar

3 credit hours

This graduate seminar is a forum for discussing student research proposals and for integrating insights and material from other venues. In the seminar, students work from an interdisciplinary perspective to bring together issues related to feminist theory, methodology and praxis.

WGST 6604 Contemporary Issues of Feminism

3 credit hours

These courses provide an opportunity for students to study in considerable depth and detail selected contemporary issues of feminism both within and outside of academia. For example, a course might focus on inequality of women in the labour force, the role of unpaid work, violence and its use against women, the colonization of knowledge within academia, or on technology including the impact of new reproductive technologies and their control of women.

WGST 6698 - 6699 Thesis

6 credit hours

Students are required to produce a thesis worth twelve (12) credit hours. Therefore students must register in both these courses simultaneously. The thesis will require a proposal, will demonstrate research and communication skills and must be defended to fulfill the requirements. The thesis must meet the specifications of the institution at which the student is enrolled.
